Want to make a difference? Consider inclusion.

Inclusive playgrounds encourage independence and promote understanding. They provide a place where all people can forget their differences and enjoy the power of play, together. And if you're a school or child care center, they can help you take the principles of inclusion beyond the classroom and to the outdoors.

Sutter Park Preschool in Powell, Ohio is an excellent example of inclusion in action. Fourteen of the school's 16 classrooms are inclusive classrooms, in which half of the students have been identified with special needs and half are typically developing. Putting students of differing abilities in the same classroom enables children to learn and grow together. In 2019, Sutter Park unveiled Possibility Playground, an inclusive play space that gives all of Sutter Park's students the ability to play together. Tricia Hosking, Principal of Sutter Park, explained the need for an inclusive playground. "We promote inclusion within classrooms—it's an important part of our kids' development. We wanted to make sure that what we're doing inside with inclusive practices was transferring outside."

Craftsmanship: The art of manufacturing.

We're confident in the products we create, because our quality comes from our people. Playworld employees are passionate about what they do, and they join forces as a team each day to craft products that bring the power of play to the people who use them. Our pride is reflected in the attention we give to each piece of equipment we create—from finishing pieces by hand (left and below) to subjecting each new product to rigorous durability testing. Step onto a Playworld playground and experience the craftsmanship firsthand.

Innovative and Unforgettable

Originally introduced in 1997, Sky Towers have been reinvented to give children an opportunity to experience the world from a bird's-eye view.

Experience the elements of nature

Climbing towards the sky, feeling the wind, catching the sun's prisms—children will experience the sounds and effects of nature on Sky Towers.

Sky Towers®

With two play routes, including an accessible one with graduated climbs, Sky Towers provide children with varying levels of challenge. The path to the top of the tower will stimulate a perceived risk and sense of accomplishment in children of all ages.

City of Bellevue and becoming dedicated as a park. When the park was up for renovation in 2018, the community was excited to help develop a plan for the park—one of the first things on their list? A playground.

Playworld representative Northwest Playground Equipment, Inc., worked with the City and their Landscape Architect to create a playground where children are allowed an open ended play experience, being able to climb up and around a series of cascading net platforms, walk across rope bridges, access lookout points perched high in the sky, and slide back down to the ground to start all over again.

launching point for a zipline. Across from the school age playground, there's an area for swings with inclusive seats, as well as an early childhood playground built into and around a climbable turf mound.

While the park is open to greater Bellevue community, it primarily serves the children and families in the Surrey Downs neighborhood overlooking the park—and the color palette shows it. The bright colors—chartreuse, orange, and aqua—were inspired by a mid-century color scheme, reflective of the era when this neighborhood was built. After all this time, play is still the focus of the property known as Surrey Downs Park.

The City of South Jordan has always tried to include activities for a wide variety of people at East Riverfront Park—but they wanted to do more, so they decided to replace their current playground with an all-inclusive play space that people of all abilities could come to and enjoy the outdoors.

The community came together to fund the new playground. It was a team effort that included the City of South Jordan, Salt Lake County, the South Jordan Rotary Club, the George S. and Dolores Dore Eccles Foundation, Rocky Mountain Power Foundation, and the Michel Foundation. Playworld representative Big T Recreation worked with the City to build a playground with a theme that fits the natural park around it. This playground is complete with Sculpted Play Elements, a Cozy Cocoon, and an AeroGlider™. Here you'll find sensory, physical, and social activities for kids of all abilities. One of the favorite activities is the Vibes from our Concerto line which can be heard throughout the park.

While the nature theme encourages the imagination, it's the all-inclusive activities that accomplished this community's ultimate goal.

School-Age

As kids get older, it takes a little more to excite them, keep them engaged, and push them out of their comfort zones. These playgrounds go above and beyond to address their needs.

Color Me Confident

While color is a small detail in the larger scope of playground planning, it shouldn't be an afterthought. Colors can tell a story and evoke a feeling. They guide the eye and inspire play.

From warm, sunset shades that invigorate to cool, tropical tones that calm, there's a perfect combination for every play space.

Choosing a color palette can be fun, but it's also a lot of work. Not sure where to start? Try assigning certain colors to a material or type of activity. When in doubt, take inspiration from your environment, whether it's your school colors or the native flora and fauna. Don't be shy—color yourself confident.

Pre-selected color palettes streamline the ordering process and allow us to provide exceptionally great prices on select product lines.

Colors are subject to change without notice. Color swatches are for reference only. For accurate color samples and the most up-to-date specifications consult your local representative. Playworld uses high quality materials and state-of-the-art manufacturing processes. Commercial playgrounds and products are subjected to years of environmental and solar exposure. Such extreme exposure takes its toll on paints and pigments, and all colors will fade over time. Playworld does not warrant against color fading or discoloration. It is important to properly maintain your playground to ensure its longevity. Depending on environmental conditions at your location, the installation of fabric shade structures may help to delay fading and discoloration.
